

Hi Simone,

10 October 2014

. . . thanks again for responding to my ad about the free opera ticket! The ticket is for the performance of Igor Stravinsky's The Rake's Progress at 15:00 on Sunday 12 October 2014. I hope that you can make it!

Please let me know whether you will come by calling me on (0931) 45462765. If I don't answer after six rings, a mailbox will become active on which you can leave a voice message. Or you can also send me an SMS to that number.

I have also left you a postcard on the customer notice board of Kupsch in Brettreichstraße 2, 97074 Würzburg. Here is a map:

And here is a photo of the customer notice board on which I have circled the postcard:

If you come to the opera, please come already at 14:15! First, we have to find each other, so that I can give you the ticket. Then there is a talk about the opera at 14:30.

Look for me by the ticket windows! You can recognise me by my spectacles:

. . . and you can also make yourself noticeable. For example by holding the postcard that I have left for you at Kupsch like this:

I look forward to enjoying the opera with you! And - as I have promised: There is no catch! You don't have to pay for the ticket! You don't have to meet me again! You don't need to sit next to me during the performance!

Best regards

Hugo (Fenilus)
